

Movement Retreat

Experience the joy of movement

SpiceTree × Flow-State

The Flow State Movement Retreat is a journey in understanding to converse in the unique dialect of your body's movements. It's an opportunity for you to discover the nuances of awareness and to find the joy of moving in ways that resonate with you.

The Movement retreat is designed to engage you in sessions that allow you to explore the richness of your body's capabilities and move freely, express yourself through these movements, and embrace the diversity of it all. From the fluidity of Animal Flow to the grounding presence of Yoga and the dynamic elements of Kalaripayattu, you'll explore a spectrum of motions that connect mind and body.

Experience and reconnect with your body, fostering a sense of awareness and appreciation of being in your own skin.

SpiceTree

Cocooned away in the lush greenery of the Western Ghats, SpiceTree offers an immersive experience. The architecture seamlessly blending with the wilderness creates a perfect haven to explore various movement styles, express yourself freely, and indulge in self-reflection through the Movement retreat.

What makes Spice Tree truly special is its commitment to a holistic experience. The on-site farm provides handpicked, organic produce for the meals, making it a moment to connect with the culture, community, and the environment. Spice Tree is more than just a venue, rather a playground for discovering the richness of movement and nature.
